Famous Gold Camp is the Most Northerly City in the World

By Bulletin Leased Wire.
BUMLEY, Oct. 6.—None has been almost destroyed by a violent storm. The south side of Front street is gone. The sand pit is gone. Two miles of beach next to sea is devastated. The water is high. Lost. The storm that last night began beating in from Lihirng beach was the worst ever known here. Men and women worked all night in the icy water to save the boats. The electric light plant was wrecked and the telephone service off. The loss is estimated at a million and a half dollars.
 The people here are much suffering and outside help will be required. Winter is at hand and it will be impossible to get in supplies needed.
 The telegraph company, and Curwien and Curwien, who are lying in the roadstead, ran to the open sea and escaped damage. All the small boats on the beach were destroyed. Five hundred houses have been demolished and more are falling.

Nome, the famous gold camp on Behring Sea, the most northerly city in the world, was built on a sandy beach. In front of the town there is an anchorage for ships, but steamers do not make a landing. Cargoes and passengers are landed at an aerial tramway station in deep water. The principal part of the town, which a dozen years ago had a population of 20,000, is on the east side of Mack River with a finger extending to the west along a narrow sand pit. This sand pit was rich in gold dust and ground insight to operate fifty years more. Nome has produced more than $25,000,000, in gold dust. Some years the yield has been as high as $8,000,000. This year the production will not be more than $4,000,000 on account of the lack of water.

The summer population of Nome is about 4,000, and in winter 2,000 remain, the others coming out on steamers that leave late in October. One steamship is yet to leave Seattle for Nome. It will be possible to send revenue cutters to Nome to deliver

Fire has now broken out in the storm stricken city and the flames have attacked the Pacific Cold Storage Plant, where is stored the chief supply of meat for the winter. The fire apparatus was destroyed in the gale.

Front street is a seething mass of wreckage into which seas are breaking while hundreds of homeless are struggling to save necessities of life.

Deceeding cars are carrying away the contents of the wrecked houses and stores as well as parts of wrecked buildings. None of the buildings on the sand pit remain standing as the levelled structures there are in flames. This portion of the community is cut

HISTORIC FIRM TO RETIRE FROM OPERATIONS 1914

John Aird & Co., Firm Which Damned the Nile, to Quit Next Year

PROFITS ARE TOO LOW AND RISKS TOO GREAT

History of Firm is Romantic—Business Established by Scottish Mason in 1848

London, Oct. 6.—The passing away of one of the greatest contracting firms in the world, John Aird & Co., Limited, is announced for next year. The firm, which damned the Nile and carried out other great works throughout the world, will cease to exist next September, by which time all outstanding contracts will have been completed.

The firm went to go out of business as has been taken by the present Sir John Aird, who succeeded his father, James Aird, in 1911 and inherited from him a fortune of over £100,000. The reason given is that, while the risks of contracting are as great as they ever were, the profits are not nearly so large as they were some twenty or thirty years ago. Great plants will be dismantled and a mass of engineers and workmen, who are said to have experience, will be seeking employment as a result of the action.

Like that of most big contracting firms the history of John Aird & Co. is somewhat romantic. It was started in 1848 by John Aird, a Scottish mason, who came to London from home and, after following his trade for several years, was appointed superintendent of the Victoria Canal Company at Greenwich. He learned the business that gave him his name, and the first big undertaking of his firm was the laying of water and gas mains for London.

He was, the first baronet, who died in 1911, joined the firm in 1881 and under him the firm made great strides. They removed Crystal Palace from Hyde Park to the present site at Sydenham, built water and gas works all over the country, as well as in Berlin, Copenhagen, Rome, France, Italy, Denmark and Brazil. They built the extended railways and constructed the Royal Albert, East and West India and Tilbury docks on the Thames, and later the Marseilles canal. The great docks at Avonmouth and Singapore were created by them, but the damming of the Nile capped all their work.

It was not easy to get the undertaking financed, the Egyptian government not being willing to take the risk. It was accomplished when the late Sir John Aird met Sir Rensselaer Cassel, the banker, in Egypt one day. Aird placed the plans before the banker and in two days the financial end of the undertaking was arranged and Aird was able to go to the Egyptian government with an offer to construct dams at Assiout and Assiout and even the first payment being made until the work was completed.

EMPERESS EUGENIE STAYS IN ENGLAND

Widow of Napoleon III. Remains Calm in "Mourning" After Death of Son. Yachting Campaign—Honor That She is Sailing is Denied.

London, Oct. 6.—Empress Eugenie has this year broken a record for many years' standing, and instead of boarding her yacht, the Thetis, for the Cowes regatta and afterwards cruising in the Mediterranean, she has spent this summer at her home, Farnborough Hill.

This change in plans caused a rumor that the empress, who has enjoyed wonderful health, had commenced to fail but this is denied. It is stated that Eugenie, who is now in her eighty-eighth year, has been out walking in the woods which surround her home practically every day during the summer. Farnborough Hill, although situated within sight of the great military camp at Aldershot, is one of the quietest places in England, and the little community of villages which surround it has never been segregated among a forest of pine.

In the grounds are the tombs of Eugenie's husband, Napoleon III, and her son, the Prince Imperial, who was killed while fighting for the British in Africa. The bodies have been transported from Chislehurst, the empress's former residence at Richmond, in 1884. The residence and museum adjoining contain many interesting relics including the carriage used by the empress and numerous other articles of value. It is expected that the empress will be in the country for some time.

Prominent Church Men and Others Go to Ottawa to Plead for Gibson

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 6.—In a final effort to have Charles Gibson, of Toronto, escape the gallows, Herbert Loomis, R.C., and Rev. Mr. Loring arrived in Ottawa this morning and will be joined this evening by Mr. Henry Peck and Rev. John McNeill. They will remain here until the case is disposed of. Messrs. Loomis and Loring had an interview today with the Treasurer of the House of Commons, Mr. W. T. White, and will see him over the evidence. There will be no decision before this evening, in any event, and quite probably not before tomorrow. The difficulty which prevents the law from being enforced is the view of the majority of the parliament, praying for the exercise of clemency, because the matter is so close to the heart of the nation.

FINANCIAL PANIC IN INDIA PRECIPITATED

Pressure of Credit Bank Causes Nervousness—No Signs of Panic in Stock Market—Bankers' Union—Advances of $500,000 Made.

Mumbai, Oct. 6.—It is impossible to tell whether the recent financial embarrassment precipitated by the Credit Bank of India, Limited, on Friday, has been reached, or the person or stress is only beginning. Rumors are said to have been spread on Saturday that the bank was in a state of collapse and that advances were made on several banks on Saturday. The fact is only beginning. There were no signs of panic in the stock market. A large business was done. Farnham and David, cotton mill shares, in which there has been some speculation recently, showed some depression at the outset, but this was followed by a rally on the day. The market was very much favored by the fact that the bank advanced £100,000 to the bank and that advances were made on several banks on Saturday.

Conservatives Make "Alternative Offer" To Build Railway To Ft. McMurray

Offer Submitted by Dr. Blow, Member for Calgary, Purely Illusory—Does Not Even Definitely Offer to Build Line for $14,800 Per Mile, Nor Does it Mention Undertaking to Settle Claims Against Original A. & O. W. Company.

That the supposed "alternative offer" for the construction of the A. & O. W. railway, which was put before the legislature by the opposition, may be exactly understood by Bulletin readers, represented here by the Hon. Dr. Blow on Friday from the contracting firm of James Maclellan, Leveson and Hughes, and also the amendment moved by the same gentleman and seconded by Mr. McEwen.

It will be noted that the contracting firm do not undertake to settle the claims of the A. & O. W. company, but only to "settle" the claims which have been made against the company. The condition of the offer is that these parties "before the province" take matters into their own hands and accept any such offer.

them to the company for the use of the money, and which the province would not be bound to accept. The province would not be bound to accept the offer, but it would be bound to accept the offer if the province were to accept the offer. The province would not be bound to accept the offer, but it would be bound to accept the offer if the province were to accept the offer.

ULSTER WILL NEVER BETRAY HER FRIENDS

Sir Edwin Carson's Message to Winnipeg Orangemen Who Offered Assistance

London, Oct. 6.—The offer of assistance from the Winnipeg Orangemen to the Ulster Volunteers, which was referred to by Sir Edwin Carson at his final speech before leaving Ireland for London, "The government," he said, "will not lose the Ulster Volunteers, which look to them in the distance to be a local one in a comparatively small part of the Ulster Volunteers, will very soon now until it permeates every village and hamlet of the whole of Ulster, and proceeds out into the Empire from which, yesterday, from the Ulster Volunteers, we received an offer of assistance. We are preparing, and are prepared to do our part. We call upon you to do your part. We are prepared as we were always prepared to do our part. We are prepared to see that we are not betrayed." (Work cheers.)

Auto Dashes Into Hearse Conveying Remains of Miss Gifford to Cemetery

Car Owned by Athabasca Land Co. Collides With Hearse at Second Street and Jasper Avenue—J. B. Goddard, Farmer, Run Down by Undesired Automobile and Seriously Injured—Driven Away at Rapid Rate, Occupants Laughing

While the remains of Miss Dorothy Gifford, one of the two victims of the terrible auto fatality here on Friday night was being taken to the cemetery yesterday, an auto owned by A. P. Baker and W. L. Young, of the Athabasca Land Company, Top tier block, First street, dashed into the hearse containing Miss Gifford's body.

The hearse was badly damaged, the tongue being broken off near the wagon. The whole group, which consisted of several coaches filled with relatives and friends of the deceased lady was delayed while another hearse was sent for and the remains transferred.

Occurring at the corner of Second street and Jasper, the accident was witnessed by a large crowd of people. The auto, was being driven south on Second and collided with the hearse just as it turned onto Jasper.

Connelly and McKinley the owners of the hearse, it is understood, will take action against the owners of the auto to recover damages.

Car Collides With Wagon.

Speeding motorists were responsible for another serious accident on Second boulevard at 12:18 yesterday, when a car containing three men dashed into a hearse driven by J. B. Goddard, of Horse Hills. With the collision, the horses ran away and Goddard was thrown from the wagon at the corner of York street and dragged for nearly two blocks. He had fastened the reins around his shoulder and could not shake them free.

The motorists did not stop to investigate the damage they had caused. The automobile was not injured at all, and, according to bystanders who saw the crash, they speeded up faster after the accident and dashed away laughing. Owing to the speed at which the machine was travelling and the consequent dust, it was impossible to get the number of the car.

When the horses finally were stopped, it was found that Goddard was nearly unconscious. He was taken into a nearby home and it was nearly three hours before he was able to go on his way home. His head was badly cut and he was bruised considerably.

Residents of Second boulevard complain that there are no police patrols on this main thoroughfare, and that motorists make a habit of speeding along the boulevard.

AUSTRALIAN LAND TAX HAS PROVED EFFECTIVE

Important Factor in Breaking Up Large Estates—Since Becoming Effective in 1910 Unimproved Land Worth Over $20,000,000 Has Been Subdivided.

London, Oct. 6.—The Australian land tax, says the Melbourne correspondent of the London Chronicle, which the Labor party passed in 1910, and which the incoming Liberal ministry dare not repeal, even if it had the power, is proving a considerable factor in the breaking up of large estates.

Since the tax came into operation three years back, land of an unimproved value of over twenty million pounds has been passed out of the fold of taxation. The whole cannot be credited to the tax, as in order to evade the tax, families have subdivided holdings so that in many cases the total ownership virtually remains the same. But, the commissioner adds, the tax has had the effect of causing absentee to sell their land, and some holders whose land was heavily mortgaged have had to escape a tax which they could not bear, to dispose of their land.

The tax allows an exemption up to 5,000 pounds unimproved value, so that an owner must possess a fairly large holding before the tax becomes a serious burden to him.

Final Summing up and Comparison of Players on Respective Teams Given Little Hint as to Outcome of Present Contests—Giants Are Favored

By Bulletin Special Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—The final act in the baseball drama of 1913 will open at the Polo Grounds in this city tomorrow, when the New York Giants and Philadelphia Athletics meet in the first game of the world's series.

As a climax to the season's play, the struggle for championship honors has aroused all previous records for interest and enthusiasm. Given the whole-hearted support of the weathermen, the series promises to establish new figures for both attendance and box office receipts.

For the past week the world's series has been the one subject of conversation and argument in a majority of the homes and offices of both Philadelphia and New York. The series has been won and lost scores of times in the minds of the people. Tomorrow afternoon the players of the two competing clubs will proceed to a settlement of the matter by the field, and within a week the world's championship team for 1913 should be known around the globe.

The chief interest in the series, which presents another in the line of annual seasonal contests, is the fact that the Giants and Athletics have already met in the world's series tournaments twice before and each has a title won at the expense of the other. Consequently the contest which begins tomorrow is the third and rather serious.

The two clubs appear to be evenly matched in playing strength, but a large not usually found in world's series contests. Where one club is strong in a certain department there is an offsetting weakness in another which balances offensive and defensive strength in the final analysis. Recently the teams compare as a whole that it is generally conceded among players and experts that baseball luck and breaks will figure to an unusual degree in the deciding of the championship this autumn.

Players Compared.

A comparison of the players, position by position, would appear to favor the Athletics, for in the batting and batting figures for this and previous seasons are available, a majority of the Mack men are leading in the batting averages. To offset this the lack of leadership in a short series such as that for the world's championship is considered to lean toward the National League pennant winners this season. Not since the present year has the world's series pitching been so close. In 1902 the pitcher was the deciding factor in the first three straight games. During the first three seasons of play the American and National League representatives alternated in winning the championship. The Athletics won the first three years in succession. The American League represented by Philadelphia and Boston duplicated this feat by winning in 1910, 1911 and 1912. To win again this season the Athletics will have to break the inter-league record.

Laying aside the element of luck, and comparing the two clubs more electrically, the Athletics seem to have a slight edge. The Athletics' main strength will be in the pitching staff. The Athletics' main strength will be in the pitching staff. The Athletics' main strength will be in the pitching staff.

Complete Reports Will Be Published in the Bulletin

In the pages of the Daily Bulletin this afternoon and tomorrow and throughout the series will be given complete detailed reports of the world's championship games, recorded by leased wires directly into the Bulletin office, affording thereby the quickest and most accurate accounts of the great games. Each game of the series, whether in New York or Philadelphia, will be reported by the same means, the service consisting of many thousands of words sent from the press stand in the field to the Bulletin editorial offices. Each play will be received here within a few seconds of its occurrence on the diamond and bulletinized in front of the office. The service will be the best that can be obtained in Western Canada.

tion by position, the Giants are found to be stronger in the pitching and catching departments, considering the staffs as a whole, while the Athletics have the margin of strength on the infield. Little if any advantage can be seen to exist here as the outfield is concerned. This leaves the batting, however, where the Athletics are the strong side. The Athletics are the strong side. The Athletics are the strong side.

Many decades, therefore, on the state of the comparison in the present game, for in a series where the first game is the deciding game, the game settles the controversy, even a one game loss which gives remarkable away in both play and bench generalship. In this battle victory, which both Mack and Mack have been planning for several weeks. The rival managers will send their strongest combinations into the battle and fight until the very end for the slightest advantage.

The Giants will have the benefit of playing the opener tomorrow afternoon on the home ground and will force some 40,000 spectators, the great majority of whom will be rooting for the New York club's success. A victory will send the club to Philadelphia with McGraw and his players confident in the margin gained, whereas should the Athletics win, the edge will be with them in the second game since on a familiar field and with the fans at their backs the conditions will all favor the American League champions.

What will be said and done, it appears to resolve itself into a question as to whether the Philadelphia team can hold the Giants' batters in line. It is the Athletics who are collecting a reasonable number of hits off the New York men. If they can win the world's championship, they will be within the reach of the Athletics. The Athletics will be within the reach of the Athletics. The Athletics will be within the reach of the Athletics.

McGraw has the choice of either Matheson or Marquard. The former is the greatest money pitcher baseball ever saw and is out and crafty under any and all conditions. Consequently it would appear logical to hold him for the opening game at Philadelphia. Wednesday, when hostile crowds will have little effect upon him and pitch Marquard tomorrow under the favorable circumstances of home field and fans. Yet Matheson has reached the age where he cannot pitch every other day and

The Passing Show

CURRENT VICTORY WELL DESERVED

The victory of the Edmonton Callers over their southern brethren was well deserved. The Edmonton boys have played the game fairly, earnestly and continuously for five years and have been rewarded with victory. It is to be hoped that the team does not stop with the Provincial title but will, providing conditions are satisfactory, go after the Dominion championship.

ENCOURAGING TO VARIETY TEAM

The Variety rustic team ought to be inspired to greater efforts by their excellent showing Saturday against the Tigers. It was so much that the Tigers played such a poor game that they played a good game. Of course the victory was not at all strength-four of their best men were off and before the game was over they were winning they had not taken any chances. The kind of game Variety played is the kind of game that the Tigers should play. The Tigers should play the kind of game that Variety played.

Umpire McDonald Believes American League is Stronger But Has a Hunch National Will Win—Claims to Be Real Picker

By Umpire McDonald.

I am strong for the American League; always have been, and always will be. I was in an argument with the boys of National League umpires one evening and was asked why it was that I thought that the American League was much stronger and faster than the National League. I said that I had two reasons. One of those reasons was because Ty Cobb was in the American League and the other reason was Joe Jackson.

The comparison of figures show that the Athletics have a stronger club than the National League. The Athletics have a stronger club than the National League. The Athletics have a stronger club than the National League.

NEW WESTMINSTER, Oct. 6.—The brutal attack at New Westminster on Saturday when Alastair Fred Lynch was set upon and beaten by New Westminster lacrosse players after they from the V. A. C. sounds the death knell of pro lacrosse in British Columbia. It demonstrates the old adage that "the Salmon River must rule," not only their players but the fans disgusted with the Minto Cup men, but their own officials have washed their hands of them. Alastair Kellington, president of the British Columbia Lacrosse Association, and one of the most ardent adherents of the Salmon River rule up to this time, declares he is through with the game for good, and other prominent men before take an active interest in the game, are of a similar frame of mind. Under his own hand, this morning a New Westminster paper which has heretofore been the apologist for the Salmon River rule, admits that the sport is dead as far as the Salmon River rule is concerned, and for a caption to its story reads: "Following between heavy black rules."
